Water Unfinished

water water
falling down
raising fruits and veggies
from the ground

yet that's just one
of water's powers
it also nurtures
all God's flowers

it floats around
without a care
in puffy clouds
high in the air

and more than that it must be said
without water
we'd all be ....

Wishes

I wish I had the power to write beautiful words to lift the world's spirit to bring joy and laughter to the hearts and minds of everyone.

I wish I had the ability to make those words
dance and sing
jump and shout
but also
calm and soothe
heal all wounds
give strength
to the weak
humility
to the powerful
and charity and grace to all.

I wish I could find the perfect words to make everyone realize we are all in need of the same thing -

that four letter word
that is
LOVE.

Is that too much to wish for?
Hare Krishna.
